Greetings to you all. Considering everything that is happening in our country, in fact the world, we have made several changes to our lifestyle; done a lot of introspection; speculated on many issues.

In light of all that has happened, and is continuing to take place, I wish to inform you that SASN has taken the decision to suspend all our activities until further notice. This decision was not taken lightly hence the delay in any correspondence. I think we were all hoping that this pandemic would just disappear, and life would go on as normal. Our lives will certainly not be normal for some time. My greatest concern is particularly for our Matriculants, an exit year with so much depending on sport results for University and a future, but I believe there will be a bright future for them anyway. I must take this opportunity to wish you well and every success that is meant for you. The focus now is on health and academics.

Do I have answers? No. Do I know what the future holds? No. All I know is that the South African community is amazing, and we can weather whatever comes our way. Just look at our sense of humour, our ability to make plans and be entrepreneurs. We are resilient and know that the current situation is merely a bump in the road, and it too shall be overcome. May God continue to bless you all, keep you safe and fill your lives with beauty and positivity.

President SASN

Yours faithfully
